

When land is limited but demand is high, a multi-story self storage building is a smart choice. Perfect for urban areas with high property values and dense populations, multi-story steel buildings allow you to increase rentable units without expanding your footprint.

Forge Building Company specializes in multi-story steel construction that helps facility owners increase rentable units without requiring additional land.

These facilities are ideally suited for climate-controlled units, which protect customers' belongings from temperature fluctuations, humidity, and extreme weather. Offering climate control not only enhances tenant satisfaction but also allows for premium rental rates.

BENEFITS OF MULTI-STORY SELF STORAGE FACILITIES

- Maximize rentable units on smaller parcels
- Increase revenue with climate-controlled, premium units
- Enhance security and attract urban tenants
- Designed for long-term durability and return on investment

Forge is the name to trust for self storage construction. Contact us today for a consultation or free estimate.
